Angels (Robbie Williams)

E, E,

I sit and wait, does an angel contemplate my fate
And do they know, the places where we go
When we're grey and old

'Cos I've been told, that salvation lets their wings unfold
So when I'm lying in my bed, thoughts running through my head
And I feel that love is dead, I'm loving angels instead

*And through it all, she offers me protection
A lot of love and affection, whether I'm right or wrong*

*And down the waterfall, wherever it may take me
I know that life won't break me, when I come to call
She won't forsake me. I'm loving angels instead*

When I'm feeling weak,
And my pain walks down, a one way street
I look above, and I know I'll always be blessed with love

And as the feeling grows, she breathes flesh to my bones
And when love is dead, I'm loving angels instead

How Deep Is Your Love (The Bee Gees)

[ORIGINAL KEY D#, CAPO 1]

D F#m G A D F#m G A

Ah----ah----ah----ah----ah----ah!

I know your eyes in the morning sun, I feel you touch me in the pouring rain

And the moment that you wander far from me

I wanna feel you in my arms again

Then you come to me, on a summer breeze, keep me warm in your love

Then you softly leave, & it's me you need to show, how deep is your love

How deep is your love, how deep is your love, I really mean to learn

'Cause we're living in a world of fools, breaking us down

When they all should let us be, we belong to you and me

I believe in you, you know the door to my very soul

You're the light in my deepest darkest hour, you're my saviour when I fall

And you may not think, I care for you, when you know down inside

That I really do, and it's me you need to show, how deep is your love

Sounds Like A Melody (Alphaville)

Dm, Am, Em, G, [x2]

It's a trick of my mind, two faces bathing in the screenlight

She's so soft, and warm in my arms

I tune it into the scene, my hands are resting on her shoulders

When we're dancing away for a whi----ile

Oh we're moving, we're falling, we step into, the fire

By the hour of the wolf in a midnight dream

There's no reason, to hurry, just start that brand new story

Set it alight, we're head over heels in love. Head over heels!

The ringing of your laughter, it sounds like a melody

To once forbidden places, we'll go for a while

[x2]

Dm, Am, Em, G,

It's the definite show, our shadows resting in the moonlight

It's so clear, and bright, in you-our eyes

It's the touch of your sighs, my lips are resting on your shoulder

When we're moving so soft, and slo-----ow

We need the ecstasy, the jealousy, the comedy of love

Like Cary Grants and Kellys once before

Give me more tragedy, more harmony, and fantasy, my dear

And set it alight, just starting that satelli--ite. Set it alight!

So darling, darling, stand, by me, oh-oh stand, by me
Oh stand, stand by me, stand by me

Or the mountain, should crumble, to the sea
I won't cry, I won't cry, no I, won't, shed a tear
Just as long, as you stand, stand by--y me

Am Am G F F
People in the park, playing games in the dark

D-G D Em G
And what they played, was a masquerade

Am Am G F F F D
From behind of walls of doubt, a voice was crying ou--out

Note, repeat chorus -> [CHORUS]

The songs are arranged alphabetically by title. In parentheses, the name of the group or singer from whom the version has been taken (it might not be the original author).

The songs are presented with the chords in bold to make it easier to see exactly where to strike the guitar or ukulele. Sometimes the same chord is repeated to make it easier to follow the rhythm.

The chords of the musical introduction, if there are any, are written separately with no lyrics bellow. Similarly, if there is an instrumental part elsewhere in the song, or a transition to another chord, there will be no lyrics underneath. If it is repeated, the note is put in square brackets [INTRO] to indicate that this is the instrumental part without lyrics. As the instrumental part is sometimes complicated to know or follow, don't worry if you skip these parts, the important thing is to enjoy singing. If the chords of the instrumental part coincide with a verse or chorus, it is indicated as follows:
[INSTRUMENTAL CHORUS]

Sometimes chords are written in parentheses. This means that the chord is not played in the song itself, but it is the chord that gives the song its sound, so you know how it starts or what the sound would be:
(C) F C G C

The abbreviation NC stands for 'No Chord', indicating that you do not play your instrument during this section of the song.

The chords have been extracted trying to avoid complicated positions such as sharps (#). Sometimes this was not possible, but their use has been limited as much as possible. This means that some songs are not in their original key, but it makes it easier for anyone to play them. If the song has a known original version and the key has been changed, this is indicated in square brackets, e.g.: [ORIGINAL KEY G#, CAPO 1], meaning that to play it in the original key you need to place a capo on the first fret (if the capo is not indicated, it means that it is in a higher key than the original song). In some songs the key hasn't been raised in the last part to make them easier to play, but in others the key has been changed (in which case you can repeat an earlier chorus if you find it easier). Regarding the chords that include the 7th (for example, F7), if you don't know the finger placement, simply play the chord without the 7 (F).

The chorus is written in italics to make it clearer to the eye. As the refrain usually has the same chords and words, when it is repeated, the note is put in brackets [CHORUS], which makes the lyrics easier to read. To continue the song, all you have to do is remember which verse you were on, which is easy since the chorus of each song is usually repeated only a few times at most. In the songs where the lyrics of the chorus vary considerably, the different choruses are written in italics, and if one of them is repeated, it is indicated in brackets with the number, e.g.: [CHORUS 1], which means the first refrain of the song is repeated.

The normal verses are written in regular letters, as are the bridges (parts of the song that have different chords to the verses and choruses). Since it is necessary to know these songs in order to play them, it is not considered necessary to mark the bridges in any special way, because when they appear they precede the chorus, so it is not difficult to understand that this part is different. If a verse is repeated, this is indicated in square brackets with the number, e.g.: [VERSE 1] means that the first verse of the song is repeated.

If an element is repeated, it is indicated by square brackets and the number of repetitions, e.g.: [x2]. If it is next to a sentence, it means that the line is repeated, and if it is below a paragraph, it means that the whole verse is repeated.

In some songs, due to their length, the lyrics have been shortened in the last part, but the main verses and chorus are the same as in the original songs.

If you have the printed book, you can use your mobile phone to take photos of the songs you want to save them in your device, as the design has been adapted to look good on smartphones.

You can find the songs on YouTube. If the song is too fast, you can click on the gear icon in the options menu to set the playback speed to 0.75 or 0.50, to make it easier to understand the music. And keep in mind that in this songbook, the key or some parts of the song have been changed to make it simple.

It is best to start with a slow rhythm until you feel comfortable with it, as there are sometimes parts that are not intuitive. Once you can play it at a slow tempo, gradually increase the speed until you find the right rhythm. Don't be a purist, the important thing is to have fun and play in your own style! Simply by playing the first verses and repeating the chorus, you'll surely enjoy :)

About the author

Jesús Marrone learned to play the guitar on his own in the 1990s, before the internet connected the world. Marrone tuned the radio to record tapes of his favourite songs, transcribe the lyrics and extract the chords. With no formal musical training, he devised a system for creating songbooks with simple chords and summary information, so that each song took up only one page.

Over the years he has learnt to sing more than 1,000 songs and, realising that songbooks often have complex chords and take up several pages per song, he decided to publish his compilations to help other musicians.

Today you can find Marrone playing ukulele or guitar anywhere in the world. He will love to sing with you 😊 .
